Southern California Public Radio (scpr.org)
June 3, 2010

Southern California Public Radio

Photo Courtesy Anthony Lepore

Joel Kyack's "Superclogger"

Puppets on the 405: Joel Kyack's Superclogger

Download

June 5, 2010

If you were stuck in traffic this week you might have already seen this: a white Mazda pickup with puppets--that's right, puppets--performing mini-plays for commuters all over the LA area. As it turns out, the puppet show is a performance art piece called Superclogger. It's by Joel Kyack and curated by LAXART's Cesar Garcia. If you haven't seen it yet, don't worry: the piece expected to continue through late September on freeways all over the Southland. Off-Ramp's Kevin Ferguson stopped by Kyack's studio to find out more. See below for a video of one of Kyack's puppet performances!