

Review Jennifer Guidi's paintings at LAXART conjure Zen, summer vibes

 By SHARON MIZOTA

LAXART This article is related to: Art

---

SHARELINES

---

Jennifer Guidi's sand-derived paintings at LAXART possess a meditative quality reminiscent of Zen rock gardens

---

MAY 30, 2014, 1:40 PM

Covered in irregular patterns of dots, Jennifer Guidi's paintings at LAXART are charming records of a mind's wanderings.

Slightly smaller than human scale, they fill the walls of the space's smaller gallery with calm, flat tones of black, brown, beige and white. They seem wholly unremarkable, perhaps even boring, until you notice they are made from sand.

